

TEXAS A&M
UNIVERSITY

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for a tenure-track (Assistant Professor) position that is open with respect to subfield. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for this position is fall 2022.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 32 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

The Texas A&M System is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Applicants should submit the following materials electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/93458>: a letter of interest (referencing research agenda, past or planned contributions to advancing diversity, and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, any available teaching evaluations, and a writing sample. Applicants should also have three letters of reference submitted electronically to Professor William Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at <https://apply.interfolio.com/93458>. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Our review of applications will begin on October 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.
